

Contractually, the following are agreed upon uses of broker listings by RPR, unless broker opts out of sending their listings to RPR:

- Match & Append products for sale. “Match & Append” is when RPR matches brokers’ active listings in RPR’s database against data sent to RPR by purchasers of the Match & Append product (e.g., mortgage company, FNMA). The purpose is to identify those broker listings in the data set that are currently on the market for sale and the list price of such properties. Such matching process is conducted entirely on RPR systems, with no display, except list price. There is no access to or export of the broker listing data to any purchaser of the Match & Append product.
- RVM products. An “RVM Product” means automated property valuation estimates generated by an analytical model that incorporates the brokers’ listings with other content licensed or generated by RPR, to be created on RPR systems, with no access to or export of the brokers’ listings to any third party.
